Michael Mullett is a graduate of the Universities of Wales and Cambridge and was, until retirement, Professor of Religious and Cultural History at the University of Lancaster. He has published many books and articles on, inter alia, early modern European popular culture and protest, the Radical Reformation, biographies of John Bunyan, Martin Luther and John Calvin, Catholic history and the Counter Reformation and Quaker history. Professor Mullett is currently writing a six-volume history of his beloved Penrith, where he and his wife Lorna took retirement. Of this series, four volumes, covering the history of the place from pre-history to the end of the 18th century, have already been published by Bookcase of Carlisle: obtainable from bookscumbria@aol.com and Hedgehog Books Little Dockray, Penrith.

Professor Mullett, who has always been committed to the cause of ecumenism, and who has considerable respect for and knowledge of both the Anglican and Nonconformist traditions, is anxious that representatives from all the churches in Penrith and its district should attend his presentation, which is about the story of Christianity in this part of Westmorland. Entrance is free, but for administrative purposes it would be helpful if you could contact me, Christopher Robson (01524 62465). A voluntary collection will be taken for Churches Together in Cumbria. There will be refreshments. There will be refreshments. Professor Michael Mullett will be the only speaker, and his talk should last about an hour.
