

Visit to Armitt Library, Ambleside

10.30 – 3.30pm

The Librarian, Deborah Walsh, will present details both of the Library's collection of printed material and of the nature of its archival holdings.

After lunch, Jane Renouf of the Ambleside Oral History Group will preside over one of the group's presentations: 'All in a Day's Work', which deals with working life before and after the second World War.

Please bring a packed lunch.

Tickets just £3 but numbers are limited so please book early!
